If your child no longer meets the full-time care and attention criteria, your claim will be closed. The capital disregard will increase by €30,000 from €20,000 to €50,000 (June 2022). Payment will be awarded from the date your application is received or from the date the qualifying payment is awarded, if later. Carer's Allowance and half-rate payments If you are getting certain social welfare payments and you are providing full-time care and attention to another person, you can keep your main social welfare payment and get half-rate Carer's Allowance as well. The Department of Social Protection will decide if you continue to meet the rules for providing full-time care. Any payment made by the Department of Social Protection (DSP) is not taken into account in the means test for Carer's Allowance. Your payment is made up of a personal rate for yourself and extra amounts for any child dependants. Carer's Allowance rates 2022 Carer Maximum weekly rate Increase for a child dependant From 7 January 2021 Aged under 66, caring for 1 person €224 Child under 12 years of age €40 (full-rate) €20 (half-rate) Child aged 12 and over €48 (full-rate) €24 (half-rate) Aged under 66, caring for 2 or more €336 Aged 66 or over and caring for 1 person €262 Aged 66+, caring for 2 people €393 You may claim a full-rate increase in your payment for a child dependant if you are a carer and are single, widowed, separated or a civil partner who is not living with the other civil partner. Investments and savings The actual income from investments and money in a savings account is not taken as your means. The person you are caring for must be: Over the age of 16 and so incapacitated as to require full-time care and attention or Aged under 16 and getting a Domiciliary Care Allowance. We also use cookies set by other sites to help us deliver content from their services. If you are already getting Carer's Allowance for 1 person and are applying for another, you must complete the application form (CR1) in full for the second person. Eligibility for the Carer Payment For a carer to qualify for the Carer Payment, they must: Meet an income and assets test Care for a person, or people, who have been assessed as meeting a minimum disability score assessed through the Adult Disability Assessment Tool (ADAT) or a Carer Needs Assessment (for a child under the age of 16) - a health professional currently treating the person must complete these forms. What counts as means? You may still qualify for Carer's Allowance if the person you are caring for spends some time out of the home each day. While you are working or on a training course, you must make care arrangements for the person you are looking after. The Department must also examine the medical condition of the person being cared for to decide if they need full-time care and attention. In this case, you may get full-rate Illness Benefit and half-rate Carer's Allowance - although this will depend on your PRSI contributions, level of earnings and current means. More information is available in our document on half-rate Carer's Allowance. A Checklist is also included in the form which you should use to review your application before sending it in. You should apply for Carer's Allowance as soon as possible. After you apply There may be a delay in processing your Carer's Allowance claim as it may take some time for your application to be processed. Forward the completed application form with the relevant certificates to Carer's Allowance Section at the Department of Social Protection - see address below. If Domiciliary Care Allowance stops before the child reaches 16 years of age, Carer's Allowance will also stop. If you are being claimed for as a qualified adult on your spouse, civil partner or cohabitant's social welfare payment and you are providing full-time care to another person, you may apply for half-rate Carer's Allowance and retain your current Increase for a Qualified Adult in full. To be entitled to Carer's Allowance you must: Be living with, or in a position to provide full-time care and attention to a person in need of care who does not normally live in an institution. Find out more about how capital is assessed in the means test for Carer's Allowance. Carer Payment Carers who provide full-time care may be eligible for the fortnightly Carer Payment to help them meet their basic costs of living. This payment is available to carers of someone with a disability (including a serious mental health condition) someone with a severe illness someone who is frail aged 2 to 4 children younger than 16 whose needs add up to the same as 1 child with severe needs 1 or 2 children younger than 16 and 1 adult whose needs total the same as 1 child with severe needs. Carer's Allowance and Domiciliary Care Allowance You cannot get a Carer's Allowance for a child under 16 years of age unless Domiciliary Care Allowance (DCA) is being paid on behalf of that child. If the DSP find that your child meets the full-time care and attention criteria, you will continue to get your Carer's Allowance payment. If you are getting Carer's Allowance and subsequently become entitled to another payment, you can claim the other payment and get half your rate of Carer's Allowance but only if the other payment is a qualifying payment for half-rate Carer's Allowance. However, you may continue to be regarded as providing full-time care and attention for a period of time, if you or the person being cared for is undergoing medical or other treatment in a hospital or other institution - see 'Change of circumstances' below Be habitually resident in the State Satisfy a means-test - see 'What counts as means?' below Not live in a hospital, convalescent home or other similar institution. Carers may be eligible for specific financial support payments from the Federal Government to assist with their living costs, providing they live in Australia and meet residence requirements. If you are married, in a civil partnership or cohabiting the first 66% of your combined gross weekly income is disregarded. The Department must be satisfied that you, the carer, are providing full-time care and attention and are able to do so. When initiating a review, the DSP will contact you and ask you to get a medical report completed by the child's doctor and ask you to provide recent evidence to show that the child continues to require full-time care and attention. Not be employed, in education or volunteering for more than 25 hours a week Carer Allowance The Carer Allowance is a fortnightly payment to carers of someone with a severe disability or illness or who is frail aged to assist with the additional costs of caring on top of their usual costs of daily living. There are no employment, education or volunteering restrictions on the Carer Allowance. If you qualify for Carer's Allowance you may also qualify for free household benefits (if you are living with the person you are caring for) and a Free Travel Pass. Carer's Allowance continues to be paid for 12 weeks after the death of the person being cared for. We use some essential cookies to make this website work. You must contact the Carer's Allowance Section with the date of the permanent move. The final part of the form (Part 10) is a Care Report. You may qualify for Supplementary Welfare Allowance while you are waiting for your claim to be processed. Carer Supplement The Carer Supplement is an annual payment of $600 which is attached to each Carer Allowance. The Supplement is paid in July each year. Other payments There are a range of other payments which carers can get under some circumstances. You can find out more in our document about the Carer's Support Grant. How means are assessed The means test for Carer's Allowance involves assessing your income (excluding your home). A carer providing full-time care on a part-time basis is required under legislation to provide this care for a complete week (Monday to Sunday). If you are getting maintenance payments, these are assessed (along with any other source of income) and the first €332.50 (or €665 for a couple) is disregarded. Page edited: 24 January 2022 Carer's Support Grant The Carer's Support Grant is automatically paid to people getting Carer's Allowance in June of each year. If you are caring for two or more people, your rate of Carer's Allowance is increased by 50% (maximum) each week. Credits You may get credited social insurance contributions (PRSI) while you are getting Carer's Allowance. Carer's Allowance may be reviewed at any time to make sure that you continue to be entitled to the payment. Be at least 18 years old and Not be engaged in employment, self-employment, voluntary work, training or education courses for more than 18.5 hours a week. We'd like to set additional cookies to understand how you use GOV.UK, remember your settings and improve government services. PRSI, union dues, superannuation (pension contributions including additional voluntary contributions) and travel expenses are also deducted. The person receiving care is regarded as needing full-time care and attention if: He or she needs continual supervision and frequent assistance in connection with normal bodily functions or Continual supervision in order to avoid danger to him or herself The time spent providing care each week must not be less than 35 hours per week, over 5-7 days. They cover such things as special payments to carers of children with disability, payments to assist with the costs of raising children, incontinence aids and the running of medical equipment and medically required temperature control. Carer's Allowance has no qualified adult payment. Appeals If you are unhappy with a decision about your application, you can make an appeal to the Social Welfare Appeals Office. What is full-time care? If you are parenting alone and you are providing full-time care and attention to your child or another person you can claim One-Parent Family Payment and half-rate Carer's Allowance until your youngest child turns 16 provided you continue to meet the conditions for both schemes. This means, if you are out of work sick you may be entitled to Illness Benefit. Any foreign social welfare payment above the maximum Irish State Pension (Contributory) rate is treated as income for the means test. You may get a Carer Allowance for each person you care for providing they meet the disability requirements and you meet the daily care requirements. If you were getting another social welfare payment before claiming Carer's Allowance, you may get your original payment reinstated and also get half-rate Carer's Allowance. You can get help with filling in the form from your local Citizens Information Centre. Your means are any income you or your spouse, civil partner or cohabitant have, or property (except your home) or an asset that could bring in money or provide you with an income, for example, an occupational pension or benefits from another country. For example, if you are getting Carer's Allowance and working, you can build up an entitlement to a contributory payment. Each carer must be providing care from Monday to Sunday but can do so on alternate weeks. Care sharing Two carers who are providing care on a part-time basis in an established pattern can also share a single Carer's Allowance payment and the annual Carer's Support Grant. You may claim a half-rate increase in your payment for a child dependant if you are a carer and are living with your spouse, civil partner or cohabitant. The Care Report The Care Report has 3 sections: •Section 1: is completed by you and lets you describe the care needs of the person you're caring for •Section 2: is signed by the person you are caring for. Tax implications Carer's Allowance is a taxable source of income and should be advised to your local tax office. The DSP has to work out your household income. You should appeal within 21 days of getting the decision. If you getting Carer's Allowance for a child, it can be paid for up to 6 months if the child is in hospital. The application form (CR1) The application form for Carer's Allowance asks for a lot of detailed information from you. If the person being cared for moves permanently into a residential care or nursing home the Carer's Allowance continues to be paid for a period of 12 weeks. The form includes a medical report which must be signed by the person you are caring for and by their doctor. You can submit more evidence or appeal this decision in the usual way. For a couple, their combined gross weekly income (less any disregards) is then halved to give the carer's weekly means. Carer's Allowance is a payment to people on low incomes who are looking after a person who needs support because of age, disability or illness (including mental illness). Change of circumstance You may continue to be regarded as providing full-time care and attention if you or the person being cared for is undergoing medical or other treatment in a hospital or other institution for a period not longer than 13 weeks. If you are single, €332.50 of your gross weekly income is not taken into account (or disregarded). If you think you have been wrongly refused Carer's Allowance, or you are unhappy about a decision of a social welfare Deciding Officer about your entitlements, you can appeal this decision. A carer who is providing care on a part-time basis to someone who attends a residential institution, for example, every other week, can also be accommodated on the Carer's Allowance scheme. It confirms that you are providing them with full-time care and attention and gives permission to share their medical information with the Department •Section 3: is completed by the doctor of the person you are caring for Applying to care for more than 1 person If you are applying for Carer's Allowance for more than 1 person in your care, you should fully complete the application form for 1 of the people being cared for and you only need to complete Parts 1, 2 and 10 of the application form (CR1) for the second person. You must meet all the usual qualifying conditions for Carer's Allowance. Instead, investment items such as money in a savings account, cash-in-hand or money in a current account and the cash value of investments and property are added together and a special formula is used to work out your weekly means. Budget 2022 The income disregard for Carer's Allowance will increase from €332.50 to €350 for a single person and from €665 to €750 for a couple. To apply, fill in an application form for Carer's Allowance (CR1) (pdf) which is available from your Intreo Centre, Social Welfare Branch Office or Citizens Information Centre. When you apply for Carer's Allowance for a child getting DCA, you do not need to get the medical report (Part 10, Section 3) completed by their doctor. If you are getting a social welfare payment from another state an amount up to the maximum rate of the Irish State Pension (Contributory) is exempt from the means test. Eligibility for the Carer Allowance Everyone on the Carer Payment will automatically receive the Carer Allowance. However, the Carer Allowance is also available to carers who: Provide daily care Care for someone who reaches an eligible score on the Adult Disability Assessment Tool (ADAT) or a Carer Needs Assessment - see above Has a household income of under $250,000 per year.
